Lost in the Bush

Lost found

Getting lost has never been so much fun.

Teams set out to find a lost colleague only to encounter many twists and turns along the way. Individuals from each team are blindfolded and transported to a certain location in the bush. Armed with a GPS and a map, their lost colleague will be allowed to give the rest of the team 10 clues via cell phone communication.

This is an amazing team builder, focussed on fun, communication, strategic thinking and leadership.
