Orange River Multi Day Rafting

More
multi day fun

The Orange River, South Africa's major river, rises in the Drakensberg in Lesotho, where it is known as the Senqu. From where the river leaves Lesotho, it flows westward for some 2200km to where it finally flows into the Atlantic Ocean at Alexander Bay.

The ultimate 6 day adventure takes you deep in the heart of the Richtersveldt desert reserve. You arrive at base camp to finalise a briefing for the adventure that awaits you. Equipment and food will be packed and prepared for the next 6 days . The back up team will meet you after 3 days for new supplies and fresh produce for the remainder of your adventure .

You can determine your own level of adventure along with the guidance of your riverguide.

You will experience a trip blanketed in beautiful sunrises, sunsets and awesome views and you will leave having had so much more than just a water adventure.
