Sights and Sounds

Evening

experience the night bush

A lot can be said about experiencing the bush at night, but anyone who has, will tell you that it is far better to breathe in the night air, listen to the night life and experience the thrill and magic of an open game drive vehicle heading for the sunset, firsthand.

The night game drive incorporates a number of highly interesting and interactive static presentations at a variety of hides and secure areas located in the bush.

Guests are able to stretch their legs and enjoy a selection of wine and snacks at various points along the way, while an expert in their relevant field, entertains them with sights and sounds of the bush.

Topics are relevant to the evening and include bats, jackals, owls and of course an astronomy element.

What better way of witnessing the magic of the African bush than at night when major predators start moving and to view the night skies from deep within the heart of the bush.
